EMERGENCY COMPLAINT FOR TEMPORARY RESTRAINING ORDER, AND DECLARATORY AND INJUNCTIVE RELIEF

Plaintiff Jim Hood, Attorney General for the State of Mississippi, ex rel. the State of Mississippi (the "State") files this Complaint for Temporary Restraining Order, and Declaratory and Injunctive Relief and states:

INTRODUCTION

1. This is a civil action regarding purported pardons issued by former Governor Haley Barbour. The Attorney General has reason to believe that former Governor Barbour's attempted pardons during his tenure of certain persons convicted of felony crimes prescribed by the laws of the State of Mississippi were in violation of Section 124 of the Mississippi Constitution. Section 124 proscribes the Governor's power of pardon and provides that "in cases of felony, after conviction no pardon shall be granted until the applicant therefor shall have published for thirty days, in some newspaper in the county where the crime was committed, and in case there be no newspaper published in said county, then in an adjoining county, his petition for pardon, setting forth therein the reasons why such pardon should be granted."

2. On behalf of the State of Mississippi, the Attorney General seeks injunctive and declaratory relief to declare null, void, and unenforceable any pardons issued by Governor Barbour without Section 124 compliance. The Attorney General also seeks further injunctive and equitable relief requiring the defendants to obtain sufficient documented proof demonstrating compliance with Section 124 before any pardons issued by former Governor Barbour are given any legal force and effect.

PARTIES

3. Attorney General Jim Hood is the duly elected Attorney General for the State of Mississippi, its chief legal officer, and is charged with managing the legal affairs of the State. As the chief legal officer of the State, he brings this lawsuit according to law and equity to protect interests of statewide and critical importance.

4. Commissioner Christopher Epps is the head of the Mississippi Department of Corrections which is charged by law with maintaining the custody of all state inmates convicted and committed to its custody. Commissioner Epps is named in his official capacity.

Commissioner Epps' business office is located in Jackson, Mississippi, the seat of state government in the First Judicial District of Hinds County, Mississippi.

5. Defendant Nathan Kern is a former inmate of Mississippi Department of Corrections. His address is currently unknown.

6. Defendant David Gatlin is a former inmate of Mississippi Department of Corrections. His address is currently unknown.

7. Defendant Charles Hooker is a former inmate of Mississippi Department of Corrections. His address is currently unknown.

8. Defendant Anthony McCray is a former inmate of Mississippi Department of Corrections. His address is currently unknown.

9. Defendant Joseph Ozmet is a former inmate of Mississippi Department of Corrections. His address is currently unknown.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

10. This Court has jurisdiction over the subject matter, property, and parties herein.

11. Venue is proper in the First Judicial District of Hinds County in that some or all the defendants maintain their business office in the First Judicial District of Hinds County, Mississippi, and/or some or all of the acts or omissions at issue took place in said judicial district.

FACTS

12. Governor Bryant was elected as Governor during the general statewide election on November 8, 2011. Governor Bryant took the oath of office, consistent with Mississippi law, on January 10, 2012.

13. Former Governor Haley Barbour was Governor Bryant's predecessor in office. During Governor Barbour's tenure in office, he issued pardons and reprieves, and granted clemency and/or conditional suspensions of sentences to certain individuals convicted of felonies and other crimes under the laws of the State of Mississippi. A list of the Executive Orders, dates issued, and names of the individuals to whom Governor Barbour granted pardons and reprieves, and granted clemency and/or conditional suspensions of sentences during his tenure is affixed hereto as Exhibit "A."

14. As indicated by Exhibit "A," on or before January 10, 2012, the date which

Governor Bryant replaced him, former Governor Haley Barbour issued executive orders granting pardons and reprieves, granted clemency, and/or conditional suspensions of sentences to more than 200 individuals previously convicted of crimes against the State of Mississippi.

15. Some of the persons listed on Exhibit "A" were serving sentences for felony convictions and in the custody of the Mississippi Department of Corrections on or before January 10, 2012 but were released pursuant to former Governor Barbour's actions.

16. Some presently unknown number of persons listed on Exhibit "A" were serving sentences for felony convictions on January 10, 2012 and remain currently in the custody of the Mississippi Department of Corrections.

17. The Attorney General has reason to believe that some or all of the individuals listed on Exhibit "A" who were convicted of felonies failed to publish sufficient notice of their petition for pardon prior to Governor Barbour's issuance of their pardons.

18. The Attorney General has further reason to believe that the Department of Corrections, and/or departments under their control have documents and other information regarding the individuals listed on Exhibit "A"'s compliance with Section 124 of the Constitution. To date, these parties have refused to turn over the documents and other information to the Attorney General so that he may further ascertain the individuals' compliance with Section 124 of the Constitution.

COUNT ONE

VIOLATION OF THE MISSISSIPPI CONSTITUTION

19. Section 124 of the Mississippi Constitution states:

In all criminal and penal cases, excepting those of treason and impeachment, the Governor shall have power to grant reprieves and pardons, to remit fines, and in cases of forfeiture, to stay the collection until the end of the next session of the Legislature, and by and with the consent of the senate to remit forfeitures. In cases of treason he shall have power to grant reprieves, and by and with consent of the senate, but may respite the sentence until the end of the next session of the Legislature; but no pardon shall be granted before conviction; and in cases of felony, after conviction no pardon shall be granted until the applicant therefor shall have published for thirty days, in some newspaper in the county where the crime was committed, and in case there be no newspaper published in said county, then in an adjoining county, his petition for pardon, setting forth therein the reasons why such pardon should be granted.

20. Pursuant to Section 124, no person convicted of a felony may be pardoned by the Governor unless, as a condition precedent, the applicant's petition for pardon is published by newspaper for thirty days prior to issuance of the pardon in the county specified therein.

21. Certain individuals pardoned by former Governor Barbour on or about January 10, 2012 and listed on Exhibit "A" were convicted of felonies and failed to comply with the publication requirement of Section 124 prior to their receipt of a pardon from former Governor Barbour.

22. All pardons issued by former Governor Barbour to persons convicted of felonies who have failed to comply with the express publication requirement of Section 124 are invalid as in violation of the Mississippi Constitution.

23. Defendants should be required to ascertain the validity of any and all pardoned individuals' compliance with Section 124 and present sufficient documented proof of compliance to the Attorney General and the Court before any of the pardons issued by former Governor Barbour can be given any legal effect.

24. Any past act of the defendants giving legal effect to any pardons not issued in compliance with Section 124 has created a risk that non-compliant individuals have been improperly released from custody which constitutes exigent circumstances justifying expedited temporary and/or preliminary and permanent injunctive relief against the defendants.

25. Further, any future act of the defendants giving legal effect to any pardons not issued in compliance with Section 124 would create a risk that non-compliant individuals would be improperly released from custody which constitutes exigent circumstances justifying expedited temporary and/or preliminary and permanent injunctive relief against the defendants.

FOR THE REASONS SET FORTH ABOVE, plaintiff Jim Hood, Attorney General for the State of Mississippi, ex rel. the State of Mississippi respectfully requests that the Court grant the following relief:

A. A declaratory judgment pursuant to Miss. R. Civ. P. 57 providing that each pardon issued by former Governor Barbour in violation of Section 124 is a nullity, void, and unenforceable;

B. A temporary injunction pursuant to Miss. R. Civ. P. 65 requiring the defendants to obtain and provide plaintiff and the Court documented and sufficient proof consistent with Section 124 of the Mississippi Constitution from any and all persons convicted of a felony, and to whom a pardon was issued by former Governor Barbour,

C. A temporary injunction pursuant to Miss. R. Civ. P. 65 requiring the Mississippi Department of Corrections be prohibited from releasing from custody any person listed on Exhibit A until the Department provides the Attorney General and the Court with documented and sufficient proof that such person has complied with all of the requirements of Section 124;

D. A temporary restraining order pursuant to Miss. R. Civ. P. 65 requiring defendants and/or departments under their control to provide the Attorney General with all documents and other information regarding the individuals listed on Exhibit "A"'s compliance with Section 124 of the Constitution.

E. A preliminary and permanent injunction pursuant to Miss. R. Civ. P. 65 prohibiting the defendants from releasing any persons to whom a pardon was issued by former Governor Barbour in violation of Section 124 from custody of the Mississippi Department of Corrections;

F. An order requiring defendants Kern, Gatlin, Hooker, McCray and Ozmet to appear before this Court for a preliminary injunction and/or hearing on the merits at a date certain.

G. A temporary restraining order and preliminary injunction requiring defendants Kern, Gatlin, Hooker, McCray and Ozmet to contact the Mississippi Department of Correction's Jackson office (or other office designated by the Department and approved by the Attorney General) every 24 hours to provide accurate information on their exact locations and any plans to travel beyond their home county; and

E. All other and further extraordinary equitable, declaratory and/or injunctive relief as permitted by law as necessary to assure that plaintiff has an effective remedy; and

F. For such other and further relief, as the Court deems just and proper, to which plaintiff may be entitled.

THIS the 11th day of January, 2012.
